A nice interactive revision site with fun activities for revision

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/ks2/maths/>

A good website with clear instructions and facts to help children and parents understand topics. Each section has games, a clear explanation and a quiz at the end.

<http://www.compare4kids.co.uk/maths.php>

A Maths “Boot Camp”. 25 days (5 weeks) of maths activities and games. Split into sections such as addition/subtraction/Place Value with up to 20 links per topic. The links are t outside websites but this is a good collation of resources. Days 1-5 activities are free, days 6-25 are by subscription.

<http://www.mad4maths.com/>

Games, advice and help, all written by a parent. A site with good section especially for parents about the new methods – it explains long division by chunking and grid multiplication along with number lines and other concepts that children patiently try to explain to parents! Plenty of games for children as well

<http://www.educationquizzes.com/ks2/maths/>

A useful revision site using quizzes covering topics of maths from Year 3 to year 6. Ideal for lower ability learners to build confidence trying skills from all 3 years of primary. Gives a brief reminder of some key points at the start of each quiz.

<http://www.arcademics.com/games/penguin-jump/penguin-jump.html>

A perfect mixed times tables game for anyone who loves penguins and times tables.

www.mymaths.co.uk

Good for parents as you can go through a mini lesson before each quiz with the children to see what they need to know/do.

Year 6 SATs: Useful Websites for English

The English area of the Bitesize website is packed with activities and questions to help you prepare for the National Tests in English.
